OBITUARY

Mrs. E. P. Windover.

It was with the deepest regret that the many friends learned of the death of (Nyeta) Windover, wife of E. P. Windover, of Sarnia.

Less than a year and a half ago she left Napanee with the best wishes of a host of friends. By her kind and cheerful disposition she had endeared herself to all with whom she was in any way associated. Her life was full of active work, of service to God, and kindly thoughts and deeds to others. She was a member of Trinity Church and Ready Helpers Class, Napanee, and the Albert Bible Class of Divine Street Methodist Church, Sarnia.

She leaves to mourn the loss of herself and baby girl, whose wee form rests upon the mother's arm in the casket, a devoted husband, a loving mother and an only sister.

The remains were brought to Napanee on Sunday, accompanied by the husband, and on Monday at 2.30 p.m., the funeral proceeded from the home of W. S. Exley to Trinity Church, where the service was conducted by Rev. W. R. Parker, Pastor of Trinity Church, and Rev. T. H. P. Archer, a friend of the deceased. The beautiful floral tributes expressed the esteem in which the deceased was held by her Sarnia and Napanee friends.—(Sarnia papers please copy).

Mrs. R. J. Dickinson.

Annie E. Schryver, beloved wife of Mr. R. J. Dickinson, passed away with startling suddenness on Thursday evening of last week. Mrs. Dickinson had been around the house all day attending to her usual work and had retired when she was taken with a smothering sensation and called Miss Allen, who had been staying with her, for help. Miss Allen immediately came to her assistance, but nothing could be done to relieve her and she passed away in a short time. Deceased was one who never grew ready to give of her time and talents to the furtherance of every patriotic or charitable cause, and her years of work as teacher in the primary class of Trinity Sunday School and her work among the young people, endeared her to a wide circle of friends. The funeral took place from her late residence to Trinity Church on Sunday afternoon, and despite the unfavorable weather, the church was filled with friends who wished to pay their last tribute to a warm friend. Besides her sorrowing husband and son, Mr. Grant Dickinson, she leaves two sisters, Mrs. Toby and Mrs. Collins, Picton, and one brother, Mr. G. L. Schryver, of Cleveland, Ohio.

Mr. Lawrence Way.

A shadow has been cast over the Village of Tamworth, and indeed over the whole township, in the passing of one of our oldest residents and most esteemed friends. Mr. Lawrence Way, whose death took place on January 12th.

The late Mr. Way has been known and respected around here for many years, having carried on a successful Insurance business for the past twenty-five years. Last October he was forced to retire from active business owing to ill health. His sufferings were borne with such patience and cheerfulness that few knew or realize the end was so near, and his passing was a shock to many.

The late Mr. Way was united the house of mourning to pay their respects to the dead, and to offer sympathy to the bereaved, which was a token of the esteem in which he was held in the community, as Larry Way (as he was affectionately known), was a friend to all, regardless of politics or religion. The floral and spiritual offerings were numerous.

In spite of the intense cold on Monday morning, a large procession followed the remains to Church of the Assumption at Erinsville, where a solemn requiem mass was sung for the happy repose of his soul, by the Rev. Father J. O'Reilly. The altar boys assisting were Patrick Way and James Way, grand nephews of the deceased. The pall bearers were Messrs. P. J. Hopkins, A. B. Carscallen, L. P. Wells, Isaac Harrison, Wm. O'Keefe of Tweed, and Jas. Whalen.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his widow, formerly Miss Hannah Goodwin, of Picton; two daughters, Miss Margaret Way, nurse at Toronto; Mrs. Dr. O'Connor, of Tamworth, and three sons, Mr. Adrian Way, of Tamworth; Mr. George Way, of Port Mc-Nichol, Ont., and Mr. Allan Way of Kamloops, B.C.

The community shares the loss of the sorrowing family and extends heartfelt sympathy to them in their bereavement.

ANDERSON

The social evening held at the home of Mr. J. R. Ackerman was a decided success. There were about fifty present. Miss Florence Parks and brother, Rockwell, carried off the prizes in progressive crokinole, and Miss Grace Bowen and Mr. Ross Card were the lucky ones in the guessing contest. — Mr. and Mrs. A. Parks and family took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. J. Card on Wednesday. — Mrs. Wm. Card entertained the Ladies' Aid on Thursday afternoon.—Messrs. Sam Baird and Dempster Parks have returned home from Toronto.—Mr. and Mrs. S. Parks and family spent Sunday at G. Parks', Hawley. — The community services are still being held on the circuit. On Sunday evening Mr. Rockwell Parks gave a very instructive talk on "Jacob", and Mr. Floyd Bowen on "Joseph", both of which were very much appreciated by the congregation. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Howell and baby spent Sunday at A. Hambly's.

NEWBURGH

Life is full of troubles; any deal in you to-day? How often we hear the two expressions. They do not seem to mate, or run well together, and yet they are more related to each other than we think.

How much of life's troubles would be averted if the anxiety of deals were cut of it. Life, after all, is a simple thing if we did not load it down with our own plans and purposes. Deals do not always mean fair exchange, and it is the possibility of unfairness that brings anxiety to those engaged in them.

Men will often run the risk of losing their reputation in order to make a sharp deal, leaving only a narrow margin between sharpness and rascality; and it is working on this close margin that brings a lot of life's troubles. How much better it would be if all could live up to the golden rule.

To follow this rule is to have acquired the true philosophy of life, and troubles and deals will be faced bravely and honestly.

Miss McEwen, of the Public School staff, is still sick, and her place is being supplied by Mrs. McNicol, of the village, who is a qualified teacher.

Mrs. Lockwood, relict of the late Robert Lockwood, passed away on Thursday last. Mrs. Lockwood was 82 years old and a lifelong resident of Newburgh. Her maiden name was Files. She was a member of a family of eight children, all of whom predeceased her except one sister, Mrs. Lakie, of Chicago. One brother, Chester, was at one time prominent in municipal politics in Newburgh, being Reeve of the village for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Files have made a contribution to the population of Newburgh, and a bright young life, full of possibilities, to their own home.

Mrs. J. A. Youmans, South River Road, Ernestown, Bridgeville, spent the week-end here visiting friends.

Miss Simpkins, of Wilton, is visiting her niece, Mrs. Vandewater.

Miss Brown, an aged lady for many years, received quite a bad fall on Monday while attending to some household duties.

Mr. Stewart Gandier has taken a position in the Standard Bank here.

At a meeting of the Canadian Girls-in-Training the following question was debated: "Resolved, that airplane and buggy is more useful than automobile. After a spirited contest it was decided that the affirmative had the best of the argument.

WEDDING BELLS.

Brewer—Pierson.

At the Church of the Epiphany, with Rev. Canon Dixon officiating, the marriage took place of Pearl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cory Pierson, to Mr. Bertram Brewer, of Toronto, only son of Mrs. H. Galt, Sillsville. The church was very beautifully decorated with baskets of pink and carnations and daffodils, with tall standards of roses and ferns at the altar. The bride was given away by her father, and she wore a gown of velvet, trimmed with shadow lace, with a veil arranged in coronet effect with orange blossoms, and there was a train of the silver cloth. She carried a shower of lilies, sweetheart roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Flossie Stephenson was her bridesmaid, and she wore a pretty French gown of aquamarine blue crepe, with Russian bandeau of silver, brilliants, and pearls. She carried an armful of pronize roses. The best man was Mr. Charles Webster and the ushers were Mr. John McKee and Mr. M. J. Short. After the ceremony, a reception was held at 2 Wilton avenue, the home of the bride's parents, where the rooms were bright with spring flowers of many shades. The bride's table, in the centre of which was the cake, was done in roses and iris and daffodils. Mrs. Pierson, mother of the bride, wore a becoming gown of sapphire blue cut velvet with drapings of grey georgette, a small blank hat, and corsage of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Galt, mother of the groom, was in black georgette with black hat. Mr. and Mrs. Brewer left for a honeymoon in New York, after which they will reside in Toronto. HOCKEY

Point Anne 3, Napanee 1.

The opening game in Napanee of the Bay of Quinte Hockey League took place on Friday evening, when the visiting team, Point Anne, from Napanee, were the contestants, the former winning by a score of 3-1. It was a real game of hockey, fast and flashy in spots, and kept the large crowd of spectators on their toes all the time. Roger, of Belleville, was the best man on the ice, followed closely by L. Spencer, who stick-handled his way through the Point Anne outfit time after time, only be stopped by Boland, in goal. Napanee's only goal was realized on one of Spencer's spectacular rushes. The game was fairly clean, as hockey goes, very few penalties being handed out, the teams sharing about equally. All the Napanee boys played well, but were a little light in weight. They had more shots on goal than the visitors, but were unlucky in placing them where Boland could not stock them. Point Anne scored in each period, Napanee scoring in the second. The playing of the local team would be greatly improved if they would indulge in more combination work instead of so much individual work at a time in the game for both, but Napanee plays altogether too much solo.

Following is the line-up:

Referee—J. A. Casterton, Kingston.

Belleville 4, Kingston 2.

The Young Irishmen, of Kingston visited Belleville on Friday evening and were defeated 4-2 after a well played game, Belleville scored two goals in the first period and two in the third, while Kingston got the pair in the second.

Following is the line-up:

Kingston—Goal, B. McCarthy; defence, T. Angrove, J. Millan; right wing, C. Devlin; centre, B. Lane; left wing, E. Watts; subs., A. Angrove, C. Logue (goal).

Belleville—Goal, K. Scott; defence, N. Goyer, W. Canning; right wing, Symons; centre, Whelan; left wing, Armstrong; subs., Hibbard (goal), Williams, Hay.

Referee—R. Gilmour, Point Anne.

Kingston 11, Napanee 6.

Despite the inclement weather Tuesday evening a large crowd gathered at the Arena to see the game between the Young Irishmen and Napanee. This was Kingston's home game, but as they were unable to secure the rink they asked that the game be played here. The Kingston boys are the fastest team that has visited Napanee so far this season and won out by a score of 11-6, the score by periods being 4-1, 7-6, 11-all in favor of the visitors. The locals played the best game in the second period, when they scored 5 to Kingston's 3. With the score 7 to 6 against Napanee, Spencer, the goal able defence, was ruled off for three minutes, and before he returned to the ice the boys from the east had scored three more goals and were on an easy street. The downfall of the Napanee team can be partially credited to their failure to play hockey. While they did pass it on Tuesday night they invariably scored.

Following is the line-up:

Kingston—Goal, B. McCarthy; defence, T. Angrove, M. Bennett; right wing, J. Millan; centre, B. Lane; left wing, E. Watts; subs., C. Devlin, A. Angrove.

Napanee—Goal, H. Finn; defence, L. Spencer, F. Bentley; right wing, I. Spencer; centre, H. McNeil; left wing, F. Huffman; subs., H. Babcock (goal), H. Johnston, J. Naphin.

Referee—Stan. Nurse, Belleville.

Belleville 3, Point Anne 2.

Belleville kept up their winning streak by defeating Point Anne in Belleville, on Wednesday evening, by a score of 3-2. Belleville scored their goal in each period, while Point Anne netted two in the second.

Following is the line-up:

Point Anne—Goal, P. Boland; defence, R. Tompkins, J. Maracle; right wing, M. Green; centre, F. Goyer; left wing, B. Brant; subs., H. Genereaux, G. Gaulin.

Games Scheduled.

Friday, Jan. 25th.—Napanee at Point Anne.

Saturday, Jan. 26th.—Belleville at Kingston.

Wednesday, Jan. 30th.—Kingston at Point Anne.

Thursday, Jan. 30th—Belleville at Napanee.

Belleville at Napanee.

On Wednesday evening next the Belleville team will visit Napanee and a fast and interesting game is assured. The Belleville boys are out for the silver mug and it remains for Napanee to set them back a notch. The locals are playing good hockey and deserve the support of all lovers of the game. The puck will be faced at 8 p.m. sharp, and the game will be handled by an efficient referee from Kingston.

MOST EXTRAORDINARY HOUSE IN AMERICA

One of the most extraordinary houses in the world is that built in San Jose, Cal., by the late Sarah L. Winchester, widow of the son of the founder of the Winchester firearms concern. It took thirty-eight years to build and is yet unfinished, and is supposed to have absorbed some $5,000,000 of the eccentric woman's wealth. "Eccentric" is perhaps too mild a word. She was obviously insane, and apparently under the influence of unscrupulous spiritists, for she believed that as long as the house remained unfinished she would live. Therefore, she ordered that building operations should go on continuously. When she finished one part of the house she would begin with another that had no relation to it, but was attached by means of a stair or a passage or a door. The consequence is that when one looks at the house, which rambles over several acres, it presents the aspect of a huddled village with scores or hundreds of separate roofs. In this extraordinary building Mrs. Winchester spent the best years of her life brooding on spiritism.

A Crude Spiritist.

Forty years ago Mrs. Winchester's husband died, and shortly afterward her only child. She was a spiritist of such crude intellect that she thought thunder and lightning to be the work of spirits and she was terrified every time the phenomena occurred. She had inherited an immense fortune in addition to royalties, which are said to have been about $1,000 a day. She had no ties, nothing in the world to do but to please herself, and her pleasure consisted mainly in appeasing the terrors that assailed her and communicating with the unseen world. She left New Haven, Conn., after establishing the Winchester Sanitarium for tubercular patients and generously endowing it. For a time she travelled, and in the course of her wanderings reached San Jose. Here there was neither lightning nor thunder, and the prospect was otherwise inviting. The town was small and somnolent. Here it appeared to Mrs. Winchester that she might enjoy the repose she craved. Near the town was a house of seventeen rooms just being completed by Dr. S. Caldwell. Mrs. Winchester took a fancy to it and purchased it with the 80 acres that surrounded it. She announced that the carpenters and other workers should remain, as she would finish the house after a design of her own.

The Mad Architect.

She proceeded to give the architect directions of such an extraordinary nature that he refused to execute them, fearing that he would become a laughing stock in his own profession. Other men were ordered to tear down work that they had taken pride in building up, and they complied. So she discharged them and got a new gang. Mrs. Winchester explained that the men she employed had life jobs so long as they carried out her instructions to the letter and asked no questions, and many of them have been toiling for more than a generation on labor no more satisfying than that of wheeling a load of bricks to one side of the yard, unloading it, then reloading and wheeling it back. The widow repulsed all efforts of the neighbors to make her acquaintance. Once she returned the card of a leader of local society with the message that she wished people would mind their own business. When President Roosevelt was visiting California the San Jose Chamber of Commerce besought her to ask the President the honor of inspecting her house, but this she refused also.

Admired Mother Eddy.

She saw few people but the actual workmen, and these usually were conversed in some way with the grotesque building. They were admitted by a side door to a plain room in which she transacted her business. Only one person was permitted to enter the place by the front door and explore it thoroughly. That was Mary Baker Eddy for whom Mrs. Winchester had an appropriate admiration. The noble front door opened but twice while Mrs. Winchester lived, to permit Mrs. Eddy to enter and to leave. It opened the third time when the body of the owner was carried out by the pallbearers. There were two particular rooms to which neither servants nor workmen ever penetrated after they had been completed. One is entirely lined with white satin, and in it were kept many gorgeous gowns of various colors. In these Mrs. Winchester was wont to array herself while awaiting the visit of the spirits with which she used to commune. There was also a blue room which was supposed to be frequented by another shift of spirits. Mrs. Winchester believed that she had frequent consultations with her husband.

The "Spook" House.

The interior of the house is a labyrinth, and since it has been bought by a syndicate for sight-seeing purposes, it has been found necessary to post directions every few feet or else a person might become lost and wander for hours. It contains 144 rooms, 2,000 doors and 10,000 windows, many of the doors and windows opening on blank walls. Not a dozen of the rooms are on the same level, so that steps are necessary everywhere. The result is being long staircases of very slight rise, turning back and forward upon themselves like mountain paths. Some of the staircases are eighteen inches wide, and some of the hallways two feet. The corridors are miles long. The fittings are very valuable, most of them being of gold or silver plate. Bathrooms are scattered everywhere, there being twenty also abound, even upon the stairs. There is a magnificent ball-room, never used. There are burglar-proof vaults and fireproof safes, and a noble pipe organ that nobody ever played. But the spirit guide, or contractor or whoever or whatever it was that told Mrs. Winchester that she would live as long as her house remained uncompleted, was mistaken after all.

CHARLES EDWARD DAVIES

Formerly Assistant General Manager, whose appointment as Acting General Manager of the Canadian National Telegraphs has been announced, following the sudden death of Mr. George C. Jones, late General Manager, December 31st, 1923.

Mr. Davies received his first telegraph experience with the Western Union Company at Helena, Montana. On January 1, 1906, he commenced his career with the Great North Western Telegraph Company, starting at Ottawa as Chief Operator. On September 20, 1909, he was made Manager at Ottawa, and two years later was given charge of the electrical equipment in addition to his other duties as Manager at the Capital city.

On January 1 of this year he was made Assistant General Manager, in charge of electrical engineering, construction work and railway service. Owing to the sudden death of Mr. Jones, however, he only held this position for one day, when he was made Acting General Manager.

Mr. Davies is a Fellow of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and a member of the Committee of Direction of the American Railway Association. He is also an active member of the Association of Professional Engineers of Ontario.

STIMULANT EFFECT OF ELECTRIC LIGHT ON PLANT GROWTH PROVEN

Electric light will stimulate the growth of a variety of plants, according to the results of a six-weeks' test conducted by the Westinghouse Lamp Company, in co-operation with Peter Henderson & Company, seedsmen, at the Henderson proving grounds near New York. Many of the specimens subjected to electric light grew during the test more than twice the size of similar plants receiving daylight only, and were considered by experts to be from fourteen to twenty-seven days in advance of normal growth.

The tests indicate that electric light will be useful to florists and gardeners in bringing flowers to an early maturity for definite dates and in reducing the time required for seedlings to grow large enough to permit transplanting. What this development means to the agriculturist is hard to predict," stated Samuel G. Hibben, National Secretary of the Illuminating Engineering Society and Manager of the Illumination Bureau of the Westinghouse Lamp Company, under whose direction these investigations have been conducted. "It seems, however," he continued, "to promise a means of doubling the speed of development of many species, and bids fair to enable the horticulturist to bring his flowers into bloom at the time when their market is at its best. This has all been possible by the perfection of flexible and cheap sources of light."

The tests were started on the first of September of last year, when twelve varieties of vegetables and twelve of flowers were sown in shallow boxes. The soil used was an ordinary light, sandy soil such as is generally used for starting seedlings. Two sets of boxes were sown, one for growing under the electric light and one for growing with only daylight. The vegetable seeds selected for the experiment were: Snowball Cauliflower, Tall Blanching Celery, Tender Green Bean, Bush Lima Bean, French Forcing Carrot, Davies Perfect Cucumber, Buttercup Lettuce, Scarlet Giant Radish, Egyptian Beet, Rocky Ford Musk Melon, Bonny Best Tomato, and Golden Heart Endive. The flower seeds selected were: Transvaal Daisy, Orange Calendula, Blue Lace Flower, Baby's Breath, Snap Dragon, Lavender African Daisy, Impatiens, Mignonette, Wallflower, Cineerari, Begonia, and Aster.

The tests were grown on opposite benches under identical conditions of heat and moisture with the exception that one group received no light other than that provided by nature. When the electric light was turned on, an oilcloth curtain divided the one group from the other. The light was switched on every night from eight o'clock until one, when it was automatically shut off.

According to J. A. Feisler, of Peter Henderson and Company, there was a marked difference noted in the germination of the seedlings under the electric light almost from the outset. Germination was hastened in some cases to the extent of four to twelve days, which advantage was maintained in every case throughout the six weeks of the experiment.

In this experiment the fact was established that all plants representing a large leaf surface are greatly stimulated by the additional electric light. This in the case of such leaf crops as lettuce and endive. Test problems ary to these by the Westinghouse Lamp Company at Columbia University showed favorable results with such plants as Boston fern, Calla lilies, and rose geraniums.

Power for the experiments was generated by two Westinghouse 110 volt, 2 hp. farm lighting plants, in order to bring these tests within the reach of communities where central station power is not available.

DIRIGIBLE WINS PRAISE.

There is jubilation in the United States Bureau of Aeronautics over the performance of the giant dirigible Shenandoah after being moored N.J., by a gale of wind. The huge cigar-shaped craft remained safely secured to the mastheaad until the storm attained a velocity of sixty-eight miles an hour. Then the steering rivets which fastened the mooring ring and nose cap to the bow were shorn through and the airship was at the mercy of the gale. With its engines operating satisfactorily, the dirigible ran before the wind, and when the wind subsided was able to return safely to its base and hangar.

It is recalled that the British R-33 once weathered a gale of fifty-five miles an hour at her moorings mast. But, many people in the United States, when the Shenandoah began its unpremeditated flight, must have recalled the recent loss of the French dirigible, the Dixmuder in a storm over the Mediterranean Sea. That tragedy has not yet been fully explained, but it has been suggested that it may have been caused by the lightning, or by an explosion on the airship. The Shenandoah has withstood a test which the best air officers say was the severest to which any lighter than air craft had ever been subjected. The condition of the airship after the test is to be carefully investigated. In the meantime, it is stated that some of the gas cells within the envelope were found to have become deflated, a large section of the outer cover to have been torn from the stern to bow, many holes to have been made in the outer cover and the upper stabilizing fin to have collapsed. The airship's performance excites especial interest at the present time because it has been proposed that the Shenandoah be used in the projected flight s by United States aircraft across the north polar regions. Officers high in the United States air service have been confident that the dirigible would be sufficiently strong for the flight. Some individuals have been inclined to question whether or not the outer fabric and the metal framework containing the gas cells would be able to resist the fury of an Arctic gale. Others have wondered whether or not snow and ice might not accumulate upon the top of the envelope and cause it to collapse. Certain Congressmen, too, have intimated their intention to ask for air officials' belief in the fitness of the Shenandoah for use in the expedition.

The airmen say that one class of doubters of the Shenandoah's airworthiness has been answered, by the recent flight. The only danger was that the envelope might have been so seriously torn, when the dirigible was twisted from its moorings, as to have been split open by the force of the wind. That danger, the airmen say, can be avoided in future by slipping the vessel's moorings when the wind attains a velocity of sixty-five miles an hour. So bulky a structure as a dirigible cannot, of course, make headway against a gale. But the showing of the Shenandoah will furnish a strong argument for those who prefer lighter-than-air flying machines to heavier-than-air types of aircraft.

Ontario Lady Satisfied With Results Received From Taking Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Lachapelle Tells How Dodd's Kidney Pills Helped Her.

Dill Siding, Ont., Jan. 21st, (Special) —"Dodd's Kidney Pills have made me feel like a new person, since I have been taking them. I suffered a lot from backache, and could hardly do my housework, but now I feel quite well." This statement is made by Mrs. J. E. Lachapelle, who lives in this place.

Backache, bearing-down pains, dizziness, headaches and depression are early symptoms of kidney weakness, too often misunderstood.

Weak kidneys go from bad to worse through wrong treatment or neglect. There is always danger of rheumatism, sciatica, dropsy, and stone in the kidneys or bladder.

The moment you suspect your kidneys use Dodd's Kidney Pills to strengthen and restore them.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have built up their reputation as a kidney remedy by the relief they give. Insist upon having Dodd's, the kidney pills your neighbors use.

Saves Three in Burning Home On His Last Day as Fire Chief

Niagara Falls, Ont., Jan. 21st.—Chief Waugh signalized his last day as chief of the fire department today by saving the lives of a woman and two children from a burning house on Fifth Avenue.

An alarm was sent in for a fire at the home of Clifford MacDonald, Fifth Avenue, and by the time the truck reached the scene of the blaze the dwelling was full of dense smoke and the interior was blazing. While the men took off the hose, Chief Waugh went onto the verandah and heard a woman's screams.

Plunging through the smoke-filled interior he was able to find Mrs. MacDonald, who had a baby in her arms, and lead them to safety. Before outside, Mrs. MacDonald said there was another baby in the house. Once again Chief Waugh went into the house, which by this time was filled with fire, and found another baby wrapped in a blanket on the dining room table. It was taken out and moved to a house under construction nearby, where there was a fire. Mrs. MacDonald and her babies were taken into a neighbor's house.

The firemen had a difficult task extinguishing the fire, which had spread up the partitions to the attic, and the registers were bursting out flames. The temperature, ten below zero, was also a handicap, as the water frose as it fell. The fire was caused by an overheated furnace and the loss will amount to around $1,000. Mrs. MacDonald and the children will recover.

Submarine Cruiser of 7000 Tons Produced by German Inventor.

Vessel is Equipped With 10 Torpedo Launchers, Two 21-centimetre and Four 8-centimetre Guns — Speed of 22 to 23 Knots on Surface Possible.

Berlin, Jan. 16th.—A submarine cruiser of more than 7,000 tons is the latest German invention. A big successful model exists.

The inventor, Prof. Oswald Flamm, a German submersion specialist, has given the correspondent the first exclusive information. The British, French and Italian Governments are interested in the invention it is learned from a private source. For Germany it is out of the question to build such a vessel, although the model has been developed through the past five years of study by Prof. Flamm, who is a German and the model is now in the Augsburg-Nuernburger Machinfabrik, a plant belonging to the Siemens-Schuckert Company.

The submersion principles developed by Prof. Flamm, who occupies the chair of Theory and Construction of Ships in Charlottenburg Technische Hochschule, has also served for the construction of a submarine mine layer capable of laying 1,000 mines, whereby it could block any port.

The submarine cruiser as planned has 7,067 tons displacement and is equipped with ten torpedo launchers, eight fifty torpedoes, two twenty-one centimeter guns with 1,000 rounds, and four eight-centimeter guns with nearly 5,000 rounds. It would develop a speed of twenty-two to twenty-three knots on the surface, with a 20,000 mile cruising radius. It submerges in a half minute to a minute. The secret lies in its stability. There is no stabilizing machine nor ballast, but stability in the construction and distribution of the submersion pressure.

Prof. Flamm appears sufficiently sure of the technical secret to explain in what the secret lies without revealing the construction itself. He said:

"During the war I studied our submarine in a villa a Nicolasee, near Potsdam, and found the greatest difficulty towards developing the submarine into a practical cruiser lies in its stability. Since the war, I have concentrated on stability and have a form which requires neither ballast nor stabilizing machinery, but can submerge or travel under water without fear of the lack of stability.

"Long raids are possible from port to port—20,000 miles or more if a speed of thirteen knots is maintained. Twenty-three knots is top speed.

"A mine laying submarine of the same type could enter the Mediterranean with 1,000 mines and cut off the ports of Gibraltar, Marseilles, Toulon, Pola or Suez."

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Alexander, of McGee, Sask., was the scene of a pretty house wedding, on Thursday, January 3rd, 1924, when their eldest daughter, Marion Alexander, was united in marriage to Mr. Harold B. Wagar, also of McGee. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Edith Alexander, of Saskatchewan University, Saskatoon, and Mr. Edward Wagar was best man. The marriage was solemnized by Rev. E. C. Sandees, of Rosetown, in the presence of the immediate friends of the family. Both the young people are well known in the vicinity of Napanee, where Miss Alexander and her sister both attended the Collegiate.

Lighting a Wet Match.

If your only way was match falls into a puddle just as you are preparing to light your camp fire you need not despair of striking it, even though you may have been in the water for quite a minute.

Take and dry it roughly on your handkerchief or coat and then stick it in your hair. Leave it there for a minute and it will come out perfectly dry again.

Winter Flowers.

Before the frost nips them break off some branches of forsythia or lilac and put them in water for a week or two until tiny roots begin to form, then plant them in pots and keep them in the shade for a few days. Then put them in south windows, and they will grow and bloom all winter.

A Memorial.

"Won't you give me a kiss to remember you by?"

"You'll remember longer the kiss you didn't get," said the wise girl.

PROHIBITION FEDERATION.

Chancellor Whidden of McMaster, Toronto, is the First President.

As the outcome of a meeting held in the Central Y.M.C.A. Hall, Toronto, all the prohibitionist forces of Canada were united in one great federation. Delegates were present from fifteen organizations. They came from as far as Nova Scotia in the east and British Columbia in the west. They united to form the Prohibition Federation of Canada. Chancellor Whidden of McMaster University was elected as the first president of the Federation. It was felt that the chancellor's experience in the Western Provinces, together with his knowledge of Parliamentary life acquired in the War Parliament, would be important assets in the Federation's councils. Two vice-presidents have been elected, whose acceptance is understood. They are G. A. Warburton and Mrs. Gordon Wright. No salaried secretary is being appointed at present because the new organization is to be a Federal body, the work of which will be largely carried on through existing units and existing offices. The recording secretary is Dr. E. I. Hart, of Montreal, while three associate secretaries in Toronto will serve to maintain close correspondence of reference to the larger groups. Rev. D. N. MacLachlan of the Presbyterian Church, Dr. W. T. Gunn of the Congregational Church, and Dr. Ernest Thomas of the Methodist Board. In addition, George Lees, of Hamilton will act as treasurer.

The Federation will include: (a) Nation-wide church organizations; (b) Nation-wide organizations opposed to liquor; (c) such provincial organizations as shall be recognized by the Federation as representing the unified prohibition force of the province. The two former groups will be represented by five delegates each, while later will each elect two delegates. The churches will also elect one additional delegate for every fifty thousand members over the first fifty thousand.

The Federation will aim at the securing of prohibition, both in the Provincial and in the Federal sphere.

Considerable attention was given also to the political outlook in each province. On every side the strongest expressions of confidence in the existing Ontario Government were made. There was general recognition that under the Hon. W. F. Nickle the law is being enforced as vigorously as under the previous regime.

The Red River of the North.

The Red River, or the Red River of the North (as it is called to distinguish it from the Red River of Louisiana), has a length of about 700 miles. Rising in the lake region of the west-central portion of Minnesota,—not far from where the Mississippi has its source,—the Red River flows in a northerly direction and forms the boundary between North Dakota and Minnesota. Entering the Province of Manitoba, it continues northward, and empties into Lake Winnipeg. The Valley of the Red River is one of the greatest wheat-growing regions in the world because of the fertile soil which was deposited long ago both by ice-sheets of the glacial period and by a large prehistoric lake known as Lake Agassiz. In many places along its course this river (as well as its tributaries) has cut channels from 20 to 50 feet deep through the rich clayey soil. Water power has been developed to a considerable extent on its tributaries. From Breckenridge, Minn., to the international boundary line,—a distance of a little over 395 miles,—the channel of the Red River has been improved by the United States Government; and the river sometimes rises high enough to allow small steamers to go up the south-west branch as far as Fort Traverse, and from there to go down the Minnesota River to the Mississippi.

Sale of Annuities Makes New Record.

Canadian Government annuities to the value of $175,000 were sold during the first week of November by the Annuities Branch of the Department of Labor. This is the largest amount so far taken out in one week.

Annuities providing for a pension payable to two parties, husband and wife, brother and sister, or others, during their combined lifetime are proving popular. Immediate payment of monthly or quarterly pensions as well as those providing for the pension to come into effect when the annuitant reaches 60 or 65 years, are also being secured in larger numbers.

Under the Dominal Income Tax Act the annuities are free from income tax. The Annuities Branch thinks that to this is largely due their increasing popularity, as well as to the fact that Canadians abroad are coming to realize that the annuities are purchasable by Canadians who have left the country, but who have not renounced their allegiance in view of their definite intention of return to Canada to live at some future time.

P.E.I. Record.

At Bunbury Farm, owned by Walter Jones, Summerside, P.E.I., a 2-year-old Holstein heifer is making a notable record for the Maritime Provinces. Upon the O. P. test she has produced 16,915 lbs. of milk and 780 lbs. of butter in 10 months and is expected to make approximately 20,000 lbs. of milk and 900 lbs. of butter at the completion of her yearly test. This heifer is one of a number of Prince Columbia Aberkerrk, sire of Lady Roberts Countha. A cow with a record of 24,473.5 lbs. of butter in 365 days. The Bunbury herd is fully accredited and by systematic testing and selection is annually fine lot of cows has been developed.

Things Have Changed.

Mrs. Brown—Things cost a lot more now than they did before the war.

Mrs. Jones—Surely, yes. A short cry used to get me a new gown then, now I have to go into hysterics.

You have heard the same remark, "She served a splendid lunch but she simply can't make a good cup of tea", and it is usually the fault of the tea. Serve "Daly's Good Tea" for every social event. For sale at Wallace's.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS ADOPT RADIO

The announcement by Mr. W. D. Robb, Vice-President, that the Canadian National Railways will equip all their hotels and transcontinental trains with radio receiving sets and broadcast to them messages, news and programs of entertainment, marks a distinct forward step in radio development. It is the first time that radio has been adopted as a part of the regular service of a rail transportation system. Mr. Robb, who is in charge of the radio department of the National System, is completing plans for the linking-up across Canada of a number of powerful broadcasting stations to be used by the railway in the regular distribution of its radio service. The photograph shows Mr. Robb in Montreal, delivering into the microphone, the instrument which broadcasts the voice by radio waves, a message to Canadian National Railways' employees and the general public. This message was heard as far south as Carolina, as far west as Chicago and as far east as Halifax.

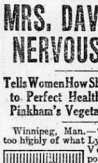
MRS. DAVIS NERVOUS WRECK

Tells Women How She Was Restored to Perfect Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winnipeg, Man.—"I cannot speak too highly of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a nervous wreck and I just had to force myself to do my work. Even the sound of my own children playing made me feel as if I must scream if they did not get away from me. I could not even speak right to my husband. The doctor said he could do nothing for me. My husband's mother advised me to take the Vegetable Compound and I started it at once. I was able to do my work once more and it was a pleasure, not a burden. Now I have a fine bouncing baby and am able to nurse her and enjoy doing my work. I cannot help recommending such a medicine, and any one seeing me before I took it, and seeing me now, can see what it does for me. I am only too pleased for you to use my testimonial."—Mrs. EMILY DAVIS, 721 McGee Street, Winnipeg, Man.



Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ont. This book contains valuable information. C

YARKER

There was a slight mistake in last week's issue in relation to the classic sprint made by Slim Jim, when he ran away the other day. The clause should have read, "he turned into Mr. W. Hancock's yard and just missed knocking down a part of the dwelling house in doing so". The word "missed" was left out of the report,—We notice that Mr. Wesley VanAlstine has installed a new pipeless furnace in "Sunnyside Cottage". Someone remarked that it would be a great stroke of economy if we could instal a smokeless, pipeless, quidless man in every home in the country. How much would we save in one generation?—The members of the Ladies' Aid and their friends spent a very pleasant time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin one night last week. — A number from here attended the annual L. O. E. oyster supper and "at home" held in the lodge room at Colebrook last Friday night. It was an up-to-date affair, so the guests report.—Mr. and Mrs. Riddell, of Colebrook, have their married daughter, Mrs. Kimmerly, from the west, spending the winter with them.—Mr. A. Brown sold his classy driver, "Dixie", to Dr. Walsh, of Kingston, a few days ago. — We hear, through the doctor, that Miss Florence Down's broken arm is progressing nicely, and she will be able to return to her work at Pickering in a couple of weeks. — The special meetings, which were being held in the Standard Church, closed on Sunday night. They were not very successful, partly on account of the bad weather. — Mr. A. Silver is making the rounds once more with his high-class wood cutting outfit. We notice another similar outfit at work in the village, Mr. S. E. Smith, of Colebrook, being busy off and on with his one-man machine. —Mr. Percy Robertson, of Trenton, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Holland, of Enterprise, spent the week-end at the parsonage. — The I. Ø. O. F. annual "at home" and public installation, which was held on Wednesday night, was well attended and much enjoyed.—Some seventy-five of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Warner's friends gave them a miscellaneous shower the other evening. They were just loaded down with useful and valuable gifts. They left for their new home at North Bay on Monday evening, carrying with them the well wishes of a host of friends.—Mr. G. Curl drove Mr. E. Smith, of Napanee, over to Enterprise last Friday night, where he gave a very successful radio concert in the Methodist Church.—It gave a number of the sons of rest a few hours' exercise on Wednesday clearing away the snow after the big storm. — We are pleased to hear that all the sick are on the mend. —Mrs. W. Dunn is home from the hospital and is slowly regaining her health.—Mrs. H. Bongard returned from Port Hope, where she has been detained since the holidays on account of the serious illness of their little son, Jack. — Mr. and Mrs. H. Walker have also returned from Toronto and other points west, where they have been visiting friends during the holidays. A number of their friends gave them a nice reception and tea.

WEDDING BELLS

Campbell—Cairns.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, 418 Tenth Street, this afternoon, at 4 o'clock, when Miss Clara Mae Cairns, second daughter of the late Cairns, second daughter of the late Rev. Hugh Cairns and Mrs. Cairns, was united in marriage to Mr. Robert Murray Campbell of Saskatoon, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Campbell, of Ayr, Scotland. Only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends were present. Rev. C. W. Brown, Pastor of Grace Methodist Church, assisted by the Rev. Charles Endicott, officiated.

The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her brother, Mr. J. F. Cairns. She was wearing a beautiful gown of powder blue cut velvet brocade gracefully draped over knife pleated georgette of the same shade and caught into an elaborate rhinestone buckle, the long bodice closing over a fold of silver cloth. She carried a sheaf of exquisite pink roses. She was preceded into the drawing-room by her little niece, Miss Aileen Cairns-Smith, as flower-girl, carrying a graceful basket of roses and freesias and daintily frocked in primrose taffeta and lace. Master Lynwood Smith, in a white sailor suit was ring-bearer, and carried the ring in a beautiful white chrysanthemum.

The bride's sister, Mrs. F. W. Cairns-Smith, of Weyburn, played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin and the accompaniment for Mrs. K. E. Mowbray's solo, "O Fair, O Sweet, O Holy," during the signing of the register. She also played Schubert's Serenade softly during the ceremony. Mrs. Smith wore a becoming tunic dress of jade georgette heavily embroidered with crystal beads. Mrs. Moore was in blue georgette elaborated with French flowers and her small hat was of shimmering velvet and silver cloth.

Mrs. Cairns was in a handsome gown of navy Canton in straight lines and trimmed with knife pleating and cord ornaments. Her corsage bouquet was of orchids. Mrs. J. J. Cairns wore a becoming dress of white georgette and lace beaded in black, and black velvet hat smartly touched with white.

The general decorative scheme was carried into effect in the dining-room where the lace-covered table was adorned with silver vases of freesias and pink roses which also surmounted the wedding-cake. Mrs. C. E. Smith presided over the table and Mrs. J. M. McKay cut the ices. Assisting Mrs. J. F. Cairns in the dining-room were Mrs. L. G. Calder, Miss Olive Bartlett, Miss Marion Baynton and Miss Clara Holmes. Master Ernest Smith admitted the guests. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. F. W. Cairns-Smith, of Weyburn, and Mr. Larry Wright, of Vonda.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell left on the early evening train for Toronto and eastern American cities, the bride travelling in a smart coat dress of Bokhara crepe with sand reverses and gloves and shoes to match. Her hat was of cloth of gold embroidered in oriental colors and trimmed with navy, plume shading into sand, and her handbag of blue iridescent beads. Her wrap was of sable-trimmed seal. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will be at home at 418 Tenth Street, Nutana.—The Saskatoon Daily Star, January 8th, 1924.

YARKER.

The recent thaw almost made the roads fit for autos to run on. Several tried their cars out for short trips, but had to give it up, with the exception of one car, which made Napanee on January 17th, after being shoveled out several times. — We notice nearly everybody's woodyard is adorned by a large pile of wood, and it certainly is a good thing to have with the price of creeping towards the $20.00 mark.—We are glad to report all those on the sick list are improving. — Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Richardson at Tamworth for a day or so with their son, Clinton.—Mr. Kenneth Brenan's horse became frightened at the train on Monday, upsetting the cutter, and ran down town, where it was captured, little the worse for its adventure. — The Holiness Movement held a three days' convention last week, which was well attended. — Rumor says the government is going to tax us for the gas we use this year. It won't be long before we will have to get an order from the Doctor in order to give Lizzie a drink of gasoline. — Our village hasn't got the radio fever yet, as we have only one set to brag about, but we have an up-to-date fox farm, which made its owners some nice money. — Miss Vivian Brown is spending the winter months with her cousin in Toronto.—Mr. and Mrs. Earl Martin, of Kingston, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Martin. —Mrs. Oliver, of Enterprise, spent a day with Mrs. Ferrier.—Mr. Bongard spent the week-end at Port Hope. — Miss Hazel Hart has returned, after spending a few days in Napanee with friends. — Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Walker met with an agreeable surprise on Monday evening on their return from Detroit, when they found a bright light, a nice warm fire and a table laden with good things to eat. A PIONEER STEAMER

Built In Britain to Run the Federal Blockade of Southern Ports.

A recent reference in an upper lake newspaper to the steamer Chicora recalls to a veteran reader some phases and incidents of early passenger steamer. "She was one of two sister steamers built in Britain for "running" the Federal blockade of the Southern ports during the last year of the American Civil War. Naturally, she was built for speed, with long, sharp prow and low-set, powerful engines, with paddle-wheels of short diameter and capable of great rapidity of revolution, and without any accommodation for passengers. The somewhat freakish name of the twins were 'Let Her B' and 'Let Her R,' the capital letters standing for 'Be' and 'Rip,' respectively. The latter of the two had a short career, and a tragic end, but the former was eventually, after the war, brought up the St. Lawrence to carry passengers and freight between Collingwood and the head of Lake Superior. In order to get her through the canals, she had to be cut in two, and the parts, made watertight, were towed by tugs.

"One of her early captains, if not her first, was Murray McGregor of Port Hope, in the county of the same name. McGregor was an odd combination of skill and daring, and in those early days there was abundant room for the exercise of both qualities. An old Highland Scotsman, who had been engineer of the Chicora, told me once that while he served under McGregor he always, in rounding a bend or a dangerous bar, had the steamer slowing up before he got the signal. The same McGregor was afterwards a wreck-preparer for an insurance company, and when the latter was called on to pay for a steamer that had been stranded on the rocky reef in the service of 40 years ago, were put on the route, she was again cut in two and kept many years on the Niagara route, to be supplemented by the Cibola, and replaced by the Chippewa, the Cayuga and the Corona."—Toronto Globe.

Mother Had to Be Parted From Baby Boy

Little Jack is two miles distant city. His mother is many miles away, and true to the old saying about distance making the heart grow fonder, Jack's mother longs and longs for a sight of her little man. Now if it were only a case of miles and dollars she might somehow or other come home occasionally, but it's more than that. She has consumption.

When she thinks of the once happy triangle—mother, father and child—its ought hard to keep from tears. She won't let Daddy bring Jack down to see her, despite the tug at the heart strings. "No," she says, "Jackie must not come, he might get consumption, too." So Jack lives with his grandmother, Daddy works in a machine shop, and mother is faithfully obeying doctors' and nurses' orders at the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives. She hopes to be home for Christmas—healthy and happy.

Contributions to aid Muskoka Hospital in its work may be sent to Hon. W. A. Charlton, 223 College Street, Toronto.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

"My husband gave up fishing when he joined the church."

"But fishing isn't sinful."

"No, but lying is."

Hard and soft corns both yield to Holloway's Corn Remover, which is entirely safe to use, and certain and satisfactory in its action.

"Nate, the hash was very much like sawdust this morning."

"I know it, sir. The missus said to use all that was left of the planked steak."

Worms sap the strength and undermine the vitality of children. Strengthen them by using Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator to drive out the parasites.

"Tell me," said the lady to the old soldier, "were you cool in battle?"

"Cool?" said the truthful veteran, "Why, I fairly shivered."

It is usually safe to say that when a child is pale, sickly, peevish and restless, the cause is worms. These parasites range the stomach and intestines, causing serious disorders of the digestion and preventing the infant from deriving sustenance from food. Miller's Worm Powders, by destroying worms, correct these faults of the digestion and serve to restore the organs to healthy action.

"Don't be too far ahead of de time" said Uncle Eben. "De early bird is of'en supposed to ketch de worm, but de February robin don't git nuffin' but a snowball."

Rub It In For Lame Back. — A brisk rubbing with Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will relieve lame back. The skin will immediately absorb the oil and it will penetrate the tissues and bring speedy relief. Try it and be convinced. As the liniment sinks in, the pain comes out, and there are ample grounds for saying that it is an excellent article.

"Do you think airships will ever come into popular use?"

"Most assuredly. If they keep on flooding the land with automobiles, a lot of us will have to take to the air."

It Will Prevent Ulcerated Throat.
—At the first symptoms of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

A negro woman was telling a friend that she had been to a wedding. She described the bride's white satin gown, the veil, the slippers, the flowers and everything.

"And what did the bridegroom wear?" asked the friend.

"Well, do you know, that good-for-nothing cuss never showed up at all!" was the astonishing reply.

Asthma is Torture.—No one who hasn't gasped for breath in the power of asthma knows what such suffering is. Thousands do know, however, from experience, how immeasurable is the relief provided by that marvellous preparation, Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. For years it has been relieving the most severe cases. If you are a sufferer do not delay a day in securing this remedy from your druggist.

Microscopic Writing.

Different people have different hobbies. Some people don't think much of a man or woman minus a hobby. A man named Hisplin, who makes his home in Derbyshire, England, has made a hobby of minute writing and seeing how much he can write in the smallest space. He uses ordinary ink and magnifying glass, and some of his cleverest efforts is compressed writing including The Lord's Prayer eight times in our language on the space occupied by an English penny; the Lord's Prayer on a piece of paper 4½ inches long that can be passed through the eye of an ordinary sewing needle; the first chapter of Genesis (more than 400 words) on a piece of paper the size of a postage stamp; and a report of the Charlesworth conspiracy case (about 9,000 words) on a postcard. Mr. Rispin regards the writing of the 9,000 words of the Charlesworth case report as his masterpiece. It took him thirty-two hours.

"Made In Ireland."

Deanta in Eirin is not understood by United States customs authorities. Therefore these authorities have pointed out to the Free State Government that the United States Tariff Act requires imports to be marked in English. The Free State Government have in consequence notified Irish exporters to cease stamping goods "Deanta in Eirin" and substitute the English equivalent, "Made in Ireland."

Collector Needs Thick Skin In the Wilds of Wales To Make Taffy Pay Rates

Rate-collecting anywhere is never a job much to be desired, for nobody expresses enthusiasm on seeing you call! Nor do you ever go a whole day without somebody telling you plainly what he thinks about yourself, the council, and officials in general.

But sometimes I think that collecting the rates from Welshmen in the wilds round Snowdon, Cader Idris, and Plynlimmon must surely be the limit of such performances. In our "Taffy" thereabouts are enough to send the average collector crazy.

There was one quite well-to-do farmer who refused absolutely to pay any rates till he was made to do so. This happened again and again, till at last even my patience was exhausted.

So I told him if he didn't pay next time when the rate was due, or after the first warning, I should take out a summons at once. He was as stubborn as ever when the time came, so I took out a summons. Then he came fuming down to my house and wanted me to take the money. But he didn't want to pay the cost of the summons! I would not accept the rate, but told him he must see the clerk at the court, ten miles distant.

He stormed and raved, and then threw the money down on my table. I refused to take it or give him a receipt. Ultimately he had to take his money away and go the ten miles to the court. No man may imagine he doesn't exactly love to do-my job.

Councils don't pay much to their rate-collectors in the mountain regions of Wales, so we have to do other things to eke a decent living. I help two days a week in a draper's shop.

"You should ought to let me half this flannel at two shillings less!" says Mrs. Jones on Saturday night, "because I paid you my rates at once last week, whatever!"

I explain that I can't agree to that. Whereupon Mrs. Jones gets angry and wants to know "What is the good of paying rates then peface anybody else, whatever?"

One like myself, calling at lone farms, and going along almost untrodden ways, is now and then asked for strange advice. Only last summer Ebenezer David Williams Jenkins wanted to know if I couldn't recommend him a homely girl (not over thirty years of age, whatever) as a wife. He said that I, going over such an extensive district, must know many girls and women wanting to get married than a lonely shepherd like himself.

I assented, and suggested a young widow down below Llanberis. At which Ebenezer sniffed, scornfully, and said he wouldn't marry a woman whom had management had already done for one man! It was useless to tell him her first husband had been delicate from boyhood. The shepherd kept repeating that no man would have died so soon after marriage if his wife had done her duty by him. Nothing else matter much.

The contrariness of the ordinary Welshman with a bad temper is something unbelievable. Take Rhys Evans as an example.

He vowed he'd see me dead before he paid such extravagant rates, though his were only one shilling in the pound. That was ten years back! When finally we made him pay, he refused to accept a receipt. I mean and spiteful fellow actually got the whole amount in threepenny-bits, which he knew nobody as he handed them over in payment.

"A bit more for you to carry home, Lloyd!" he kept saying.

Then what trouble I always have with Gwenneth Tremaine Lloyd Lloyd! That is his wife had moved. For all his time, after the day's work was done, Gwenneth used to appeal in the Black Horse, two miles off, where he had to make his way home after ten o'clock. And such a walk up the valley and round the moor at night was no light affair, even for a sober man.

One night eleven o'clock came and he still hadn't arrived. He had fallen down a dyke and, both by the side of a ditch full of water, and gone to sleep, he turned till his face was three right over the water, so that when he awoke, half dazed, he could see the moon's reflection in the ditch, which puzzled him greatly.

Just then he heard his wife's voice calling. She had set out with a lantern to seek for him. Her voice came nearer.

"Gwenneth Lloyd! Gwenneth Lloyd! Where are you?" she shouted.

The man, quite nonplussed by the moon's reflection, exclaimed, bewildered:

"I can't tell, Jenny, whatever! But, anyhow, I'm somewhere up above the moon!"

And that's where, on my rate-collecting expeditions, I sometimes wish I could go.

Ulster's Cattle Export.

Ulster's yearly export of cattle was valued at £29,000,000, pork £1,745,000, bacon pigs and hams £10,975,000 and potatoes £5,465,000. These figures were quoted by the Minister of Agriculture at a luncheon to the Judges and stewards at Fermanagh Farming Society's show. Pigs, regarded in most country places as merely a sideline, were exported to the value of nearly £11,000,000 every year. That trade could be increased still further but only if packers exercised more care in the selection of pigs to be purchased. They had in Ulster 300,000 dairy cows and if they could raise the average production of each cow by 200 gallons a year, a quiet feasible proposition, they would have an extra profit of £5,000,000. Railway rates must come down, the minister declared. Full trucks at a low rate would be better than half empty trains at a high tariff.

SIR PHILIP WAS NERVOUS.

Even Experienced Lecturers Have Their Moments of Nervousness.

Even experienced lecturers have their moments of nervousness, and Sir Philip Gibbs is one of them. In his recent book, "Adventure in Journalism," he tells many stories of his experiences on the platform, and among them this:

Strange things happen to an English lecturer in the United States than in any other country. At least they happened to me. I shall never forget, for instance, how in the middle of a speech to the City Club of New York I was thrust into a taxicab hurried off to the 44th Street Theatre, received with a tremendous explosion (a flashlight photo!) in the dressing room of Al Jolson, the funny man, thrust into the middle of a harem scene (scores of beautiful maidens), and told to make a speech on behalf of wounded soldiers, while the audience raffled for an original letter from Lloyd George to the American nation.

Surprised by my rapid transmigration from the City Club, and by my presence in an Oriental harem, very hot, rather flustered and not knowing what to do with my hands, I kept screwing up a bit of paper which had been given to me at the wings, and by the time I had finished my three minutes' speech it was a bit of wet, soggy pulp. When I left the stage, a white-faced man in the wings who had been making frantic signs to me informed me coldly that I had utterly destroyed Lloyd George's letter to the American nation which had just been raffled for many hundreds of dollars. After that I went back to finish my speech at the City Club.

Australia's Wonder Bridge.

In about six years' time Australia will possess in the bridge to be built across Sydney Harbor one of the greatest marvels in the world.

The total cost of this vast structure, for which contracts are shortly to be allotted, will be about seven million pounds, nearly half of which will be expended in wages. The new bridge will eliminate the slow-working ferry now in use, and will bear four lines of railway, beside a 57 ft. roadway with broad pavements.

Australians have dreamed of this undertaking for many years and there has been much discussion as to what form the bridge should take, the possibilities of floating and suspension structures being considered. Finally, a high-level bridge has been decided upon.

For pure grandeur, this great construction is expected to eclipse the world-famous Forth and Quebec bridges, for although its span of 1,000 ft. is slightly shorter than either of these, it will be considerably higher above the water than they are.

The approaches to the bridge were commenced some time ago by Australian firms, but they found it impossible to carry out the whole work efficiently, and tenders were invited from engineering concerns all over the world.

There are few great difficulties to be overcome in the construction, as the granite piers which will support the bridge will have solid rock foundations on both sides of the harbor, thus making the venture less speculative than has been the case with other large bridge-building contracts.

Valuable Potatoes.

Amid all the wealth of beautiful flowers and luxurious fruits displayed at the Royal Horticultural Society's autumn show in Holland Park Skating Rink, W. London, not even the rarest orchid or choicest new rose was lavished so much as a small bag of potatoes which was shown in a glass case.

The potatoes were a sample, about 3 lbs., of Messrs. Sutton's new disease-resisting tuber, Ben Cruachan, which recently won Lord Derby's gold medal for the year's best potato certified immune from the dreaded wart disease. Messrs. Sutton made a display of potatoes in their exhibit of 200 dishes of their vegetables.

Visitors smiled to see them in a glass case, but it was pointed out that the tuber were far too valuable to incur the risk of one being slily slipped from the basket, taken home and propagated.

To raise a new points of which no one can be sure is a task of at least five years; and for every 1,000 new varieties grown about 999 are ultimately thrown away.

The Channel Islands.

The name Channel Islands is applied to a group of small islands in the English Channel, lying off the northwest coast of France. Their total area is about 75 square miles, their population numbers about 100,000. The principal islands are Jersey, Guernsey, Alderney and Sark. Parts of the duchy of Normandy, and have belonged to England since the Conquest. The inhabitants still speak the old Norman - French language.

Super Power Station.

Several millions of pounds are to be spent on the new "super" electrical power station at Barking.

It is says the British Industrial News, to be erected by the Consolidated Construction Co., of Cloak lane, E.C.

This station will have a capacity nearly equal to the present consumption in the London county area.

Power will be carry current from the power station to the South London area, a special tunnel, 7 feet in diameter and 60 feet deep, is to be built under the Thames.

Go to Jericho.

Here is a curious theory to account for our phrase "Go to Jericho." There is a house in Essex called Jericho, where Henry VII. is said to have held his clandestine meetings with Anne Boleyn. "Where is the King?" "Gone to Jericho," was frequently heard about Whitehall.

"Why have Scotsmen a sense of humor?"

"Because it's a gift."

He—Is she progressive or conservative?

She—I don't know. She wears a last year's hat, drives a this year's car, and lives on next year's income.

SIR JOHN C. SCHULTZ

INCIDENTS CONNECTED WITH THE RIEL REBELLION.

Escape From Fort Garry Prison and Winter Journey Through Hundreds of Miles of Wilderness to Reach Ontario—Honors Conferred on the Worthy Patriot.

Early in 1869 the bargain was completed between the Government of Canada and the Hudson's Bay Company by which it was agreed that upon the payment of £300,000 to the company the latter would surrender to Canada its rights in the vast region known as Rupert's Land. The Hon. William Macdougall was appointed Lieutenant-Governor. On October 30 he reached Pembina.

As Macdougall advanced he found the road barricaded; he was forbidden to proceed, and a few days later he was driven from the territory, by the half-breeds who were carrying out orders given by another half-breed at Fort Garry known as Louis Riel.

As winter came on the rebels looked about for more comfortable quarters than an encampment on the prairie, and on November 2, they rode down to Fort Garry, and in spite of the protests of the officials took possession of the fort with all its stores and abundant supplies of many kinds.

Col. Dennison, who had been sent out to superintend surveys, raised a small force to resist the rebels. A party of about forty assembled at the house of Dr. Schultz, in the village near Fort Garry, for the purpose of protecting some government supplies stored there. Three hundred rebels well armed, and having several field-cannon, appeared before the house. The little garrison surrendered. All were disarmed and several were imprisoned in Fort Garry. One of the prisoners was Dr. Schultz.

Dr. John Christian Schultz was born at Amherstburg, in Essex County, Ontario, in 1841. He studied medicine at Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., graduating in 1862. Red River Settlement, then the far Canadian West.

Having purchased the small press and very limited collection of type brought into the settlement for the publishing of a newspaper called the "Nor-Wester," Dr. Schultz began the publication of a monthly magazine, filling many of its columns with his own contributions, some consisting of news, others of articles describing the country and encouraging a handful of struggling settlers.

No one in the settlement was better known to Riel and his followers than was Dr. Schultz and when they had him a prisoner they thought it wise to guard him well. He was, therefore, placed in a room by himself. Although winter was well advanced, the room in which he was confined was without a fire, and he was compelled to sleep on the floor.

The doctor's family and friends were allowed to send him in food, and one day, a pudding was passed by the guard, which the prisoner found had a knife and a gimlet. The buffalo skin, of which he made his bed, was cut into strips. That night Dr. Schultz induced the guards to sleep outside the door of the prisoner's room; and this, he knew, was the time for action.

With the aid of the gimlet the line of bolts in the window was made to leave the wall, and removing the window of his room, he threw out the line, and then with great difficulty managed to squeeze his huge body through the opening. But his ponderous weight was too much for the line. It broke and Dr. Schultz fell to the frozen earth, a distance of twenty feet, severely injuring his hip. With painful effort, and after great labor, Dr. Schultz managed to scale the wall, and so reached the outside of the fort.

This was January 23, the snow lay deep on the prairie, the night was starless and dark, and the piercing wind whirled the powdery snow in the refugee's face. He lost his bearings in his hurry to leave the vicinity of the fort, and did not learn where he was until he found himself approaching St. Boniface, where he knew he need not look for friends. Turning about, he made his way with all possible speed to Kildonan, about six miles north of Fort Garry, where he took refuge in the house of a prominent settler, Mr. McBeth, father of the Rev. R. G. MacBeth, author of "The Making of the Canadian West."

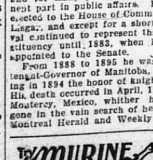
From this trading place Dr. Schultz and his companions set out on snowshoes for Eastern Canada. After tremendous difficulty and a phenomenal winter journey of hundreds of miles through snow and ice and wilderness, he reached Canada, and passed through Windsor, London, Toronto, Kingston, and Montreal.

At all these points and many others his reception was most stirring, for the people had learned by then of the indignities their countrymen had suffered as prisoners of the insurgents. Indignation meetings were held, and at one at Toronto, on April 6, 1870, when Dr. Schultz, Charles Mair, Dr. Lynch, and Mr. Setted were present, the refugees from Riel's violence—the Government was called upto take action.

It was not until the following August that the action finally taken produced results.

Dr. Schultz returned to Manitoba, and for many years took a prominent part in public affairs. He was elected to the House of Commons for Lisgar, and except for a short interval continued to represent that constituency until 1882, when he was appointed to the Senate.

From 1888 to 1895 he was Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, resigning in 1894 the honor of knighthood. His death occurred in April, 1896, at Mentorey, Mexico, whither he had gone in the vain search of health.—Montreal Herald and Weekly Star.



CENTURIES OLD.

Remains of Huron Warriors Unearthed at Orillia.

Scores of Orillia citizens visited the scene of discovery of the Indian skeletons, unearthed on the property of Bert Milne. As many as thirty skeletons were uncovered. Several of these, especially the skulls, were remarkably well preserved, the light, sandy soil acting as a preservative.

The scene of the disinterment is in the western suburbs of the town known as Mount Slaven and from the time of the earliest settlement was known as an ancient battle ground. It was, in fact, the scene of the massacre of many thousand Hurons by the invading Iroquois in March, 1649, when a large Huron village known to historians as Ca-hatigue, occupied this spot. Wagon loads of relics of aboriginal days have been unearthed at various times to be placed on exhibition in museums in various towns and cities in the Dominion and also in the United States.

Orillia has always been a mecca of summer excursionists and many of the visitors in past years went away loaded with relics picked up on the old battleground within a few inches of the surface, such as tomahawks, skinning stones, arrow heads, beads and wampum.

When the property was subdivided about 1887, by John McCosh and W. M. Harvey, both since deceased, the trees were cleared away and settlement began. At that time many skeletons were unearthed as well as implements of warfare and at odd times since other traces of Indian occupation have been reported. On the very lot where these thirty skeletons were found about twenty-five years ago, a man named Harry Wiley, while digging a cellar, came upon eight complete skeletons and several fine specimens of Indian pottery, one of large size. This later found its way to the Normal School Museum, Toronto, through the medium of the late Dr. David Boyle.

There is no evidence that this spot was ever used as a burying ground within the past century and the remains just uncovered are without a doubt those of Huron warriors who perished in the great massacre. It is expected that as excavation proceeds other skeletons and relics may be brought to light. The Indian agent at Rama, the Ojibway Reserve, across the lake from Orillia, has been notified, and it is expected that the remains will be given decent sepulture.

Campaign for Winter Eggs.

The winter production of eggs in Canada is far short of what it should be. There are certain definite reasons for this and a remedy is easily available. G. B. Green, the district Agricultural Representative for Oxford county, along with his assistants, and with the help of Professor Graham, the poultry expert at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, has started a campaign to stimulate winter production.

The campaign is being carried on through the 12 affiliated egg circles of Oxford county, which are operated on a co-operative basis and are having great success in their marketing activities. The campaign was started recently, when the equipment which has been prepared for demonstration purposes was placed in the Woodstock Egg Circle room. This equipment is being duplicated in each of the 12 circles, and if it is successful in interesting the farmers in securing more eggs per hen the production will show a very material increase during the coming winter.

Winter production is determined by the care and feeding of the hens between October 15 and December 1. If the hens are given right feed, in right quantity, and a little more care during this period and throughout the winter, the farmers will get returns when the price of eggs is high.

Portable Wireless For Survey Parties

A small portable wireless set has been designed for the use of survey parties by the Canadian Signal Corps, directed by Lieut.-Col. E. Ford, and the set is to be given a thorough test by A. M. Narraway, controller of surveys, in a forthcoming trip of inspection throughout the Northwest. By the use of this set Mr. Narraway expects to be able to keep in touch with the broadcasting stations at Winnipeg, Calgary and Edmonton during all the period of his trip.

If the set proves successful, it is intended to equip all the various survey parties with this instrument. They will by this means be able to keep in communications from the main stations which otherwise cut of touch with settlements. Instructions will be sent them by wireless by arranging for a definite hour each day when they must listen in. They will receive time signals from Arlington, D.C., and thus check the time of their watches and be able to establish their position exactly. Incidentally, the parties will be able to secure information and entertainment from the general broadcasting stations.

The apparatus is contained in a box 12 inches square. It has a range of from 200 to 31,000 metres wave. It is specially turned for 400 and 450 metres wave.

New Variety of Wheat.

Reward, a new wheat, a cross between Marquis and Prelude, made the best showing in the experimental plots at the Dominion Experimental Farm at Indian Head this summer, according to N. D. MacKenzie, superintendent of the farm.

Reward gave a yield of 43 bushels an acre, which considered even excellent showing under somewhat adverse conditions of wet weather and disease. Mr. MacKenzie said that the yield of wheat growing under field conditions was materially cut down this year by a new disease, Basal Glume rot, an ailment which is attributable to the exceptionally wet weather. Under field conditions, Marquis made the best showing with 32 bushels to the acre, though a number of fields gave very much reduced yields.

"Have you any fresh vitamines?" asked the young bride.

"Yes, mum," said the veracious dealer. "We've some that was caught on the coast yesterday."

"A pound, please."

She got shrimpe.

ODESSA

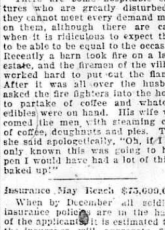
About one hundred and fifty relatives and friends met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Montgomery, last Thursday evening and had a very enjoyable time, which was spent with cards, dancing and music. One of the features of the evening and one that came as a great surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery, was the presentation of a purse of money. The address was read by Mrs. Wm. Jones. There was an abundant supply of dainty eatables. Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery expect to leave in the near future to make their home in Buffalo, where Mr. Montgomery has a position awaiting him. They will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends.—Mrs. Hiram Babcock, Kingston, is visiting relatives.—Robt. Wycott, Watertown, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. Ralph Benjamin.—Mr. and Mrs. Holmes and little daughter, Alice, have returned from spending the past three weeks with relatives in Acton, Windsor, Montreal and Ottawa.

BATH

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Earl McClelland, on January 8th, a son.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mellow and baby, of Napanee, spent Sunday at George Davy's.—Mrs. John Ritchie and son, George, of Cleveland, Ohio, are visiting at Amos Barrager's.—The euchre held in the Masonic Hall on Friday evening, in aid of the Public Library, was a decided success. — The many friends of Miss Vera Miller and Mr. Ed. Horne, both of whom underwent operations for appendicitis, at Kingston General Hospital, will be glad to hear that they are slowly improving after being in a very critical condition.—Mrs. (Rev.) A. C. Hoffman who has been ill, is improving.

DENBIGH

Mrs. J. W. Lane, who enjoyed a pleasant visit with relatives and friends at North Bay, has arrived home.—David Plotz and his brother Carl, who have been employed in the United States, also arrived home.—Russel Ball left for Oswego, N.Y., to visit his brother, Charles, there.—Miss Margaret Adam went to Belleville to attend Albert College, and Miss Frances Ready left to attend the Kingston Collegiate Institute.—Miss Gladys Stein returned to Little Ireland to resume teaching.



Taken by Surprise.

There are some hospitable creatures who are really disturbed if they cannot meet every demand made on them, although there are cases when it is ridiculous to expect them to be able to be equal to the occasion. Recently a barn took fire on a large estate, and the firemen of the village worked hard to put out the flames. After it was all over the husband asked the fire fighters into the house to partake of coffee and whatever edibles were on hand. His wife welcomed the men with steaming cups of coffee, doughnuts and pie. Then she said apologetically, "Oh, if I had only known this was going to happen I would have had a lot of things baked up!"

Insurance May Reach $75,000,000.

When by December all soldiers' insurance policies are in the hands of the applicants it is estimated that the insurance in force will reach $75,000,000, for a total of 23,500 policies. In the last four weeks, ending September 1, during which the applications were accepted, there were 12,500 demands for policies, aggregating $25,000,000 worth of insurance. The demands were largely for policies of $1,000 and of $2,000.

It was said at the soldier's insurance division of the S. C. R. that 75 per cent. of this large batch of applications had already been approved, and the remainder would be handled within the next two weeks. In only a very few cases, it was said, were the applications being found not to come within the regulations. It is hoped that every policy will be issued within the present month. All policies will necessarily be dated as from September 1 at the latest.

Are You Only Half Alive?

Is life just one glorious existence for you? Are you thoroughly alive every minute, every hour, every day? Do you sleep well? Do you look forward to your meals and enjoy them? Are you always hungry at meal time? If your whole body is not thoroughly alive mentally and physically—fairly tingling with the very joy of living—if you don't sleep well—if you don't look forward to your meals and enjoy them—if you are tired, listless, weak, you need a tonic. You need Carnol. Carnol goes to the root of the trouble by first building your body, enriching your blood, toning up your system and strengthening your nerves. L'Abbé Cantin thinks so highly of Carnol that he has endorsed it by the following letter:

"All the good that is claimed for Carnol seems to be well founded. I have myself observed how beneficial it has proved in a number of cases. That is why I recommended it so highly to my family and to all my friends. Carnol is within the means of every family as the price is most reasonable. To my sincere thanks I join my best wishes for the prosperity of your industry."—L'Abbé Auguste Cantin, 96 Cremazie St., Quebec. 14-9 of the series dealing with the establishment of the BANK OF MONTREAL at representative points in CANADA and elsewhere

BEFORE any steamship had crossed the ocean, and before either the locomotive or the telegraph had been invented, nine merchants of Montreal signed articles for the formation of the "Montreal Bank," now the Bank of Montreal. That was on June 23, 1817—more than 106 years ago.

Since that time Montreal has grown from a town of less than 20,000 to a city of more than 800,000 population.

The Bank, in continuous and successful operation from those early days down to the present time, has steadily pioneered its way across Canada. Today, through its Head Office and more than 550 Branches, it offers complete banking service—local, national, and international—in every section of the Dominion.

Fire at Sillsville.

The home of Irvine Brooks at Sillsville narrowly escaped being destroyed by fire about 11 a.m. on Tuesday of last week. Mrs. Brooks, while attending to her duties in another room, heard the cries of a cat in the kitchen. She immediately investigated and found the room full of smoke. Neighbors were informed and were soon at work with two fire extinguishers, while the school children carried water from the cistern and well. The fire was soon under control, but it had caused considerable damage.

SILVER WEDDING.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Douglas, South Napanee, was the scene of a most pleasant gathering on Friday evening last. About forty of the relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas met with them to join in the celebration of their silver wedding. A game of progressive euchre helped to pass away the evening and about eleven o'clock a most dainty and elaborate dinner was served. At the conclusion of the repast the host and hostess were presented with a beautiful silver platter and combination entree dish, and an address. The recipients made an appropriate reply. Following is the address :

Napanee, Jan. 18th 1924.

To Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas.
Napanee, Ont.

Dear Friends,—Your friends and neighbors are present with you this evening to help you celebrate your 25th anniversary of your marriage. We do not think that any celebration can be more important than that in which we gather to commemorate any of the mile-stones of a happy domestic journey. Marriage in recent years, especially in some countries, is not treated with that sanctity which the traditions of our Christian lands require, although we are happy to say that in Canada, marriage is generally looked upon as a solemn and inviolable contract which must be lived up to faithfully, and we trust that at no time will our Legislators, by unwise or hasty legislation, loosen up or make less binding, this one great contract, which means the preservation of the home.

The word "home" as properly understood is one of the sweetest words in the language. A poet has described "home" as "the resort of peace and joy and love and plenty, where polished friends and dear relations mingle into bliss." We believe that such a home, thus so beautifully described, is the home we are now in.

We see evidence of peace and plenty. There is much joy in our hearts to-night as we believe there is in yours.

On your family we wish also to felicitate you. You have brought to manhood manly and exemplary boys who are a credit to you and to our country and we trust that in the years to come they will perpetuate your memories as upright, industrious good citizens.

We trust that you may both live long to enjoy many such anniversaries as we now celebrate and that in the Divine providence, we may be permitted to be with you.

Yours sincerely,
THE GUESTS.

ARGYLL LODGE PAYS VISIT TO MIZPAH LODGE.

Argyle Lodge, No. 212, I.O.O.F., of Napanee, on Monday night last, paid a fraternal visit to Mizpah Lodge, No. 127, Belleville. Thirty-five members from Napanee, including representatives of Napanee Lodge, No. 86, Tweed, Stirling, Thomasburg, Madoc, Bowmanville and Hamilton, together with the members of Belleville and Mizpah Lodge, filled the large lodge room to capacity. Five candidates were present for the first degree, and the following members of Argyle Lodge exemplified that degree in a manner which various members said was nearly to perfection.

Degree Master, J. Douglas, E. Todd, H. Babcock, P. Wagar, H. Garratt, B. M. Black, R. Moore, A. Pybus, F. J. Bradley, J. Birrell, H. R. Ketcheson, A. Ford, G. Winters, G. Root, R. B. Fair, F. S. Scott, W. Wilson, W. Sills, C. Loucks; pianist, T. P. Cook.

After the degree a banquet was served and a short toast list was carried through with P.G.P. R. H. Ketcheson as toastmaster. The toast of "The King" was honored in the usual way. The degree staff of Argyle Lodge was toasted in a very enthusiastic manner and responded to by Bro. J. Douglas, H. Garratt and R. Moore. Bros. Rev. Kenney and Rev. Mr. Marshall also expressed their appreciation of the manner in which the degree was conferred. D.D.G.M. G. G. Way also spoke highly of the work. P.G. G. Walters, of Napanee, led the visitors in expressing their appreciation of the welcome they had received at Belleville, and hoped that Belleville and Napanee Lodges would meet together again in the near future.

A MEMORIAL TO THE LATE DR. VROOMAN

The Hospital Aid Society of Napanee, has undertaken to provide a most appropriate memorial to the late Dr. Vrooman by fully equipping and furnishing a room in the Kingston General Hospital to be known as "The Dr. J. P. Vrooman room". The room has been selected and the Society has already set aside some funds for that purpose, but a considerable sum is still required. A great many people have expressed a desire to assist in this most laudable undertaking and to enable them to do so subscription lists have been opened at the Robinson Company's store and Wallace's Drug Store. It is not the intention to solicit subscriptions as contributions toward such a memorial should be voluntary. Anyone, therefore, who desires to show respect towards the memory of a man who devoted his life in alleviating the sufferings of others and was noted for his whole hearted generosity towards the poor, may leave their contributions at either of the above mentioned stores or with Mrs. J. W. Robinson, the treasurer of the Society. The Hospital Aid Society is to be congratulated upon its good judgment in choosing the form this memorial is to take, and we bespeak for them a prompt and generous response to this call for funds. We hope the amount raised will be sufficient to enable the ladies to make this memorial worthy of the town and of the man whose exemplary life it commemorates.

Some houses are kept spotless and in order; others are full of happy people. You will surely be one of the happy ones if you use Williams' Canadian Mustard Cream for that disagreeable chest tightness, or stiff neck. Rub it on and rub it in; it won't blister—no mess or bother—a jar. Great for the children. 35c.

WATCH FOR THE M. M. M. SALE

ENTERPRISE WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. J. D. Wagar and Mrs. H. A. Carscallen, on the afternoon of January 9th.

The programme was arranged by Mrs. H. A. Carscallen, Vice President of the Society, from the yearly Blue Book Report, and was both interesting and very instructive. Special music was provided by Mrs. W. J. Mellow and Miss Elizabeth Mellow, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

After the meeting a delightful farewell tea was given by Mrs. Carscallen, in honor of Mrs. H. R. Jackson, President of the Society, who is leaving for a three months' trip to San Antonio, Texas, and also for Mrs. Geo. Nelson, Corresponding Secretary of the Society, who is moving soon to Ottawa, where she will reside.

After luncheon was served, a vote of thanks was proposed by Mrs. Jackson to Mrs. Carscallen for her delightful hospitality, which was sincerely responded to by a hearty hand-clapping.

Important—It is requested that all ladies for the W. M. S. autograph quilt be handed in at the next meeting, to be held at the Parsonage, on February 13th.

She could hear the hoof-beats of the Sheriff's posse in the valley. One minute more might be too late. The brute husband might keep her chained forever or kill her as he threatened—but her girl heart yearned for the clean youth who at this moment pressed forward to save her. Don't miss the thrills! Here is a picture you will want to cheer! Goldwyn presents the Chicago Daily News prize-winning story "BROKEN CHAINS", by Winifred Kimball, with Coleen Moore, Claire Windsor, Malcolm McGregor, Ernest Torrence. Also a good Comedy.
